The Consumer Council is designed to encourage families whose children are clients at The Children's Center to be involved in, and participate fully, in decisions related to their care and services. The council uses consumer ideas to improve services and agency management practices by:

- Serving as an advocate for children, youth and families at The Children's Center by being a voice for those we serve and providing recommendations to the organization and its staff
- Helping new clients and their parents understand services and resources provided by The Children's Center
- Improve community
